Rocky Mountain Youth Corps’ (RMYC) Mission
The RMYC mission is to engage young people in the outdoors, inspiring them to use their strengths and potential to lead healthy, productive lives. RMYC teaches responsibility for self, community, and environment through teamwork, service, and experiential education.

Program Overview:
This position will support the Branch of Fluid Minerals (i.e., oil and gas). While office work would be accomplished from the CRVFO in Silt, field work would be conducted in the CRVFO and the Grand Junction Field Office areas. Duties include the review and comparison of reclamation reports, site inspections in the field, reclamation monitoring in the field, data compilation, report writing, and file management. The applicant must be self-motivated, able to write reports, and keep updated records.

Current college student or graduate working towards or holding a degree in ecology with an emphasis in botany desired. Experience with surface reclamation preferred, and a familiarity with industrial activities will be helpful. The intern will be assigned projects without constant oversight and must be able to stay motivated without supervision. If the intern is still in school, the hours worked per week and the start date are flexible to allow the student time to work on their degree.

Must be able to type, drive, spend 8 hours in the field, and hike challenging terrain.

Hiring requirements:
• U.S. Citizenship or permission to work in the United States
• Valid Driver’s License with clean driving record
• Must be 16 to 30 years old at the start of the service opportunity (as required per PLC)
• Members will need to pass a Federal Background Check prior to working
